We'd Stay, If Had Choice Vietnam Evacuees Say Here

By HELEN ALTONN
approximately 170 evacuated from U.S. soil here from war-torn Viet-landed on U.S. soil here bands if given a choice.

The women and children but most of the wives appeared worn out from the hasty, long trip.

But morale was high and not a tear was shed as they discussed the fearful events in Vietnam and the fathers and friends left behind.

The Pan American charter flight was scheduled to arrive at 2 a.m., but didn't get in until 5½ hours later.

Another was to land at 2:15 p.m. with still a third one at 10:15 a.m. tomorrow.

Evacuation charter flights, anticipated during the next few days,
